

2020 Humanities for All grant guidelines Updated May 6, 2020

Humanities Kansas (HK) is leading a movement of ideas. We believe that stories carry our culture and ideas change the world. Humanities for All grants support projects that draw on history, literature, and culture to engage the public with stories that spark conversation.

Goals of the Humanities for All grants:

1. Share stories that explore the human experience
2. Engage people in public discussions centered on a humanities theme in-person or through other formats appropriate for social distancing
3. Generate insights that cultivate a thriving democracy

What types of projects do we support?

Humanities programs can take many forms. Formats include but are not limited to new interpretive exhibits, community conversations, panel discussions, presentations, book discussions, short documentary films, or podcasts. Projects can be planned for in-person engagement, virtual platforms (like social media or Zoom), or some other creative format that does not require a physical gathering. Any application for an in-person event must also include a brief description of an alternate format if in-person events cannot occur.

Of special interest are projects that pivot programming in new directions. What does public programming with engagement in the humanities look like if the public cannot be there in person or if social distancing prohibits gatherings? Examples could include Zoom symposiums, Facebook Live events with Q and A, new exhibitions that are displayed outdoors with scheduled times for feedback and Q and A online, or documentary short films shown continuously on the side of a building with opportunities for the public to leave comments on a shared site.

Award Amounts: Applications can be submitted in two categories:

1. Mini Humanities for All Grants

GETTING STARTED

Talk to HK staff. Applicants are encouraged to speak with HK staff early to discuss ideas or clarify guidelines.

Participate in an online Grants Chat. Humanities Kansas regularly schedules online grants chats to provide opportunities for applicants to learn about the application process and gain tips for writing a proposal. Participation is not required and does not obligate an organization to apply. Future grant chats will be announced on HK's social media platforms and the online calendar of events.

Know what makes a successful project. To be competitive for funding, the humanities must be central to the project. Projects should draw on our diverse history, literature, and cultures to explore a defined topic. Projects must also engage the general public, which primarily refers to an adult, out-of-school audience. Engagement can be done with in-person events and discussions, or with participatory online platforms or other formats. Projects that are intended primarily for students, faculty members, or other on-campus or in-school audiences will not be considered.

Humanities include the study of history, literature, ethnic studies, languages, linguistics, law, folklore, gender studies, religious studies, philosophy, art history, archeology, cultural anthropology, and ethics. Social sciences, such as political science and sociology, are also considered humanities.

Decide whether to apply for a Mini Grant or Major Grant. Major Grants offer more funds, but Mini Grants provide greater flexibility regarding submission deadlines. Mini Grants must involve more than one public event (for example, a request for a keynote speaker is usually not considered a competitive proposal unless there are additional engagement opportunities).

Consider the format. HK is interested in innovative, creative program formats, diverse perspectives, and new methods for reaching an audience. HK grants are intended to get a project "off the ground." HK cannot be expected to fund a similar project, or a signature event, year after year.

Set Goals. Projects must have at least two goals. Goals are simple statements that summarize what you hope to accomplish. Goals might connect people with new information and points-of-view, spark discussion and new ideas, or strengthen relationships among groups or organizations.

Contact a Humanities Scholar. Every project must involve at least one humanities scholar. Scholars are often faculty members, library or museum professionals, or independent cultural experts. HK staff can help identify humanities scholars. Scholars must have at least one of the following criteria:

- At least a Master's degree in a humanities discipline
- College-level teaching experience in a humanities discipline or proven record of scholarship in the humanities
- Museum curator, librarian, or other individuals with exceptional knowledge of the relevant topic
- Culture bearers – tribal or community elders, or practitioners of traditional cultural forms

Before you submit your application, you and your scholar should:

- Discuss the project and formulate ways to strengthen the humanities aspects
- Consider the involvement of other scholars to add diverse perspectives
- Review the application to help clarify goals and methodology

During the grant project, your scholar could:

- Serve as a speaker, panelist, or lead a discussion
- Offer ongoing advice and guidance
- Review an exhibition script or short film script for authenticity and diversity of perspective
- Provide an assessment of the project at its conclusion

Develop a plan of action with a timeline that lists the work you hope to accomplish from planning stage to completion.

- Include a list of major project activities to be completed within 12 months
- Assign a date to complete each task
- Identify the key project staff and consider their role in accomplishing the activities. Key staff might include project director, fiscal officer, marketing coordinator, volunteers, etc.

Develop a communications plan. This plan includes identifying your target audience and developing strategies to reach that audience. What are the characteristics or demographics of your audience? Press releases submitted to local newspapers and use of social media are effective methods. Publicity must not be released prior to the funding decision or without acknowledgement of HK.

Create a budget. The budget should show all anticipated expenses needed to accomplish the project. In addition to grant funds, applicants are asked to contribute goods and services equal to or greater in value than the amount requested. This is called cost share and can include:

- Staff and volunteer time devoted to the project
- Donated use of office space, venue facility, equipment, and supplies
- Social media, public service announcements, and other free publicity
- Refreshments at events

Cash match is not required. Grant funds can only be used for direct costs. HK can only accept costs accrued after the official start date of the grant period.

Examples of items grant funds CAN be used for:

- Salaries for temporary staff specifically hired to carry out the project
- Salaries for part-time staff with significant roles in the project
- Honoraria for scholars
- In-state travel reimbursement for staff and scholars including mileage, meals, and lodging
- Non-durable supplies
- Rental of facilities or equipment such as projectors and audio systems
- Some publicity and promotions

If you don't see something listed, contact staff for clarification.

Grant funds CANNOT be used for:

- Salaries for full-time staff employed by a sponsor organization
- Funds may be used for promotion, but cannot exceed 40% of the request
- Publishing a book or catalog
- Performance pieces such as plays, musical performances, storytelling, or re-enactors
- Purchase of equipment, website hosting, or insurance
- Purchase, restoration, or construction of a building
- Courses for academic credit or school projects. Students may be involved as volunteers
- Academic conferences or programs directed to a single profession
- Creation or purchase of a mural, memorial, monument, or plaque

- Individual research, scholarships, or fellowships
- Fundraisers, advocacy, or lobbying
- Projects that discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, physical abilities, sexual orientation or identity
- Food, beverages, entertainment, and promotional giveaways such as shirts or mugs

Past Successful Grant Applications are available upon request.

BUDGET FORM

16. BUDGET

The budget shows all anticipated expenses throughout the course of the project and indicates what is to be funded with the HK grant or with cost share. Cost share is a way to document local contributions. It is the goods and services contributed to the project by the sponsor organization (or other partners involved) that are not funded by the grant. These local contributions ensure that Humanities Kansas is able to meet its requirements to the National Endowment for the Humanities. Remember: Applicants must provide cost share that is equal to (or greater than) the grant amount requested from Humanities Kansas. Everything used or done in support of the project once the grant has been awarded has a value.

Include detailed notes for each expense that explains how the amount was determined. Round totals to the nearest dollar. Provide details in the following categories:

- Project Staff
- Honoraria
- Travel
- Promotion
- Supplies
- Equipment and Facilities
- Other Expenses

What Do These Budget Categories Mean?

Project Staff is the value of time for people who administer the project, both paid and volunteer. Staff may include project director, marketing coordinator, or specialty staff hired for the project. For each person, estimate the total hours dedicated to the project and multiply by a comparable wage. Project staff should not exceed 40% of total grant request.

- Fiscal Officer's services must be a cost share contribution
- Grant writing or other activities prior to the grant award cannot be included

- Volunteer time may be valued at $15/hr and should be listed as cost share
- Fringe benefits may only be shown as cost share

Honoraria are payments made to humanities scholars that serve in roles such as speakers, panelists, or consultants. Honoraria should be proportional to the work and qualifications of each scholar. A major talk by a recognized expert involving research demands a higher payment than participation on a panel requiring minimal advance preparation. Honorarium is typically $100-$200 per event but should not exceed $500. Speakers not paid with grant funds should be listed as cost share.

Travel includes mileage, lodging, and meals for both project staff and scholars. Only out-of-town travel can be funded by the grant. In-town travel must be counted as cost share. HK allowable rates:

- Mileage: $.50/mi for private vehicles. Rental cars with economy rates are allowed.
- Lodging: Up to $100/night. Expenses beyond this rate must be cost share.
- Meals: Up to $35/day
- Airfare: Economy rate only

Promotion includes the creation of brochures, invitations, flyers, posters, and costs associated with mailings. It may also include paid advertising such as online media, newspaper, radio, and television. The use of social media is encouraged.

Supplies includes detailed material costs for aspects such as exhibits or book discussions, or production of program agendas and gallery brochures. This category may include estimated costs of expendable items or office supplies needed for the project, such as pens, paper, or printer ink.

Equipment and Facilities includes rental costs for meeting rooms, public venues, sound equipment, projectors, or other items needed for a project. Grant funds cannot be used to purchase equipment, but you can place a fair market value on its use and count cost share. Fair market value is based on the cost of renting similar equipment.

Other includes costs essential to the project not identified above. Be specific. HK rarely funds “miscellaneous” costs. Items such as refreshments, group meals, and bus rental should be listed as cost share. Institutions may include a standard rate for indirect expenses only as cost share and only after consultation with HK staff.
